INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE TEST

Please read and understand this simple list of instructions. It is very important that you follow these to guarantee a successful sleep study:

1. Bring something loose and comfortable to wear while sleeping.
2. Feel free to bring a book or a favorite pillow. Please note each room has a cable television should you wish to watch TV prior to going to sleep.
3. Wash and dry your hair on the day of your sleep test prior to coming to the lab. Do not to use any hair products, such as gels, hairsprays or heavy conditioners, because it may prevent the electrodes from adhering to your scalp.
4. Please do not wear make-up. Some electrodes are on the face, so this area must be clean in order to get a good connection.
5. Remove nail polish and/or artificial nails from at least two fingers. The oximeter that is placed on your finger to monitor blood oxygen levels reads this information through the nail, so any polish or acrylic will not provide an accurate reading.
6. Bring your own toiletries such as a toothbrush, toothpaste, hairbrush or comb. Showers are available for your use.
7. Bring clothes for the following day.
8. Patients are encouraged to take current medication prior to arrival. If you are prescribed a sleeping medication by your doctor, you may bring it with you and take it upon arrival.
9. Try to get a normal night's sleep before the test, unless instructed otherwise by your doctor. Continue to take your regular medications and limit caffeine intake the day of your test. Please also avoid any alcohol consumption the day of your study.
10. If you are having a CPAP study, it is NOT necessary to bring your own machine if you already have one. You may, however, bring your CPAP mask or nasal pillows.

Please call at least 24 hours in advance if you need to reschedule your appointment

INFORMATION PRIVACY

Sleep Care Solutions, LLC will use and disclose your personal health information to treat you, to receive payment for the care we provide, and for other health care operations. Health care operations generally include those activities we perform to improve the quality of care. We have prepared a detailed NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES to help you better understand our policies in regards to your personal health information. The terms of the notice may change with time and we will always post the current notice at our facilities and have copies available for distribution. The undersigned acknowledges receipt of this information.

Patient's Initials

Patient Complaint

Any patient has the right to file a complaint and may do so without coercion, discrimination, reprisal, unreasonable interruption of services. A Patient Complaint Form can be obtained from any Sleep Care Solutions LLC staff member upon request.

Notice of Privacy Practices

It is the policy of Sleep Care Solutions, LLC, to be fully compliant with federal HIPPA Privacy Regulations. The Privacy Regulations establish national standards regarding disclosure of protected health information. This notice describes how your medical information may be disclosed and how you can gain access to this information. If you have any question about this notice, please contact Sleep Care Solutions Privacy Officer, at 1-877-316-7748.

Your Medical Record

Sleep Care Solutions maintains a medical record for each patient that comes in contact with our program. This includes information about your office visits, hospitalization, laboratory and other test results, along with other relevant information that we receive from other healthcare providers. Your medical record is used to assist us in providing you with the best possible care and medical treatment. Additionally, these records are used for:

1. Documenting and communicating to other health care practitioners precisely what care you have received.
2. Assisting you and your health insurance company to understand all fees charged for your care.
3. Meeting a variety of legal obligations, some of which require us to communicate with third parties.
4. Assisting in training and other operational functions that help us guarantee we provide the highest standard of care possible.

You Have Important Controls Over Your Medical Record

It is our desire that you fully understand exactly what rights and controls you have over your medical records. A knowledgeable patient can become more involved in their healthcare decisions and exercise greater control over the accuracy of the content and third-party access to their health information. Pursuant to the HIPPA Privacy Regulations, patients have a right to:

1. Receive a copy of the Notice of Privacy Practices
2. Request restrictions on disclosures of protected health information
3. Request alternative means of communicating Private Health Information.
4. Inspect and obtain copies of Private Health Information
5. Request amendments to Private Health Information
6. Receive an accounting of disclosure of Private Health Information.

Our Responsibilities and Practices

Sleep Care Solutions is required by law and our own high professional standards to maintain the privacy and security of your Protected Health Information. This Notice is intended to give you an understanding of our legal responsibilities and privacy practices.

1. Maintenance of policies and practices that protect the privacy of your health information.
2. Securing your electronic records from premature destruction and unauthorized disclosure.
3. Notifying you when we are unable to agree to a requested restriction.
4. Accommodating reasonable requests to restrict access to your information.
5. Abiding by the privacy practices described in this notice and any updates to this notice.

Examples of the Privacy Policy

Emergencies: In the event of an emergency which threatens the health or well being of our patient, we use and disclose health information in a manner that is most likely to protect and restore the health of an individual. While privacy is always important, it takes a lower priority when the health and well being of a patient is threatened in an emergency.

Referrals: When we receive a referral from another physician, we routinely keep that physician informed about their patient's health status. We do not require a patient to sign an authorization for release of information to the physician that referred them to our program.

Treatment: We use and disclose a patient's health information for our own treatment purposes as we deem appropriate under professional standards for quality and timeliness of care. This includes the ordering of tests, making referrals, receiving consultation or using third parties in other ways to further patient care and treatment while under our care.

Payment physician. : We use and disclose patient information in order to obtain payment for services. On occasion, we are required to provide information to other health care providers so that they can receive payment from services provided. As an example, we coordinate patient information with the hospital to facilitate payment for inpatient services delivered while one of our doctors has acted as your attending

Business Operations: To ensure the on-going quality of care and efficient health care delivery to our patients, we employ a variety of internal processes, programs, reviews, and controls. These procedures often require that our personnel have access to a patient's health information.

Communications: As it is critical that we communicate with our patients in an effective and timely fashion, it is sometimes required that we use telephone messages, voice mail, answering machines, email, and other written communications. This sometimes requires communications through a spouse, family member, friend, or translator. We use our best professional judgment about acceptable methods of communicating information pertaining to appointments, treatment alternatives, test results, and other pertinent healthcare information. It is essential that patients provide us with information pertaining to with whom we cannot communicate health care information.

Business Associates: On a limited basis, we use outside parties (Business Associates) to assist with treatment, payment, and other healthcare operational needs. We require that all Business Associates comply with accepted privacy standards and protect the privacy of our patients to the same high standard of confidentiality that we have in dealing with patient health care information.

Legal: On occasion, we are required by law to release some or all of a patient's health information.

Minimum Necessary: Even though we can lawfully use and disclose patient information under the aforementioned circumstances, we always try to limit the use of disclosure to the minimum necessary. However, where matters of care or treatment are concerned, our priority is to disclose all information this is relevant to the patient's health.

Changes in our Privacy Practices

We reserve the right to change our privacy practices in the future and to make those changes applicable to patient health information, including that in effect before the effective date of the changes. Changes to our privacy practices will be posted in a public area of our office. We will also strive to notify patients with revisions of this Privacy Policy Document at the next service delivery encounter with our office.

Complaints About Our Management of Private Health Information

In the event that you feel that any of your privacy rights have been violated or if you believe that our use or disclosure of your protected health information violates the law or does not comply with our Privacy Practices in effect at the time of the event in question. You may contact our Privacy Officer, Tim Powers, at 1-877-316-7748. We will accept and investigate your complaints promptly. Federal Law and our own professional standards prohibit retaliation of any kind for your filing a complaint. You also have the right to file a complaint directly to the Secretary of the United States Department of Health and Human Services.

This policy is in effect as of August 13, 2003.

Acknowledgment of Receipt of Privacy Notice:

My signature below verifies that I have received and read this Notice of Privacy for Sleep Care Solutions, LLC. I understand that I have privacy rights, including the opportunity to request restriction on the use and disclosure of my health information.
